Engagements have been offered, with every prospect of success, to some American artists of renowned fame, and to others of dawning distinction, whose genius it will be the object of the management to cultivate and encourage, and several Comedies, written in this country for this Theater, will be produced.

The Stage, in all its departments, will be under the exclusive direction and control of Mr. Lester.

It will be the endeavor of the Management to merit for this Theater during the season the same success with which it has been hitherto crowned, and to maintain the preeminence accorded to it by the American public.

The author of this work traveled as a Missionary in different portions of the Border Counties of Missouri, and in the Territories of Kansas; was there before the passage of the Kensas-Nebraska bill, and became intimately acquainted with the prom-

Normaka bill, and became intimately acquainted with the prominent leaders, and with the events of the subsequent crusade against the liberty, lives and property of all Freedom-loving settlers.

He narrates only facts, but they are of the gravest and most startling character; exhibiting in all their living enormity, the awful outrages of which that unhappy Territory has been the victim. The reader, while he cannot fail to be deeply interested in its perusal, will rise from it with an indignant blush of shame that anywhere under the American flag such monstrous crimes should go unpunished. Every STATESMAN, POLITICIAN AND CHRISTIAN should read and ponder well the facts contained in this volume. They clearly reveal the settled and deliberate purpose of a large and powerful body of men, backed by the Executive head of the Government, to invade and trample in the dust not only the political, but also the social and religious rights heretofore regarded as socredly and inviolably guaranteed to every American.

This work is universally regarded as combining beauty, strength and practical value to a degree rarely, if ever, equaled by any American author.

"Of the merits of her work we leave our readers to judge, feeling assured that they will rise from its perusal with a tender and regretful thought for the young authoress, who was taken away just as the cross was being lifted from her weary shoulders."

"That it is the best written, the most natural, unaffected and intensely interesting of any it has been our good fortune to peruse."

"Your analysis of the Slave laws is very able, and your exhibition of their practical application by the Southern Courts evinces great and careful research. It is more easy to make than to refute a charge of exaggeration against a work of fettion, like Mrs. Stowe's; but your book is as impregnable against such a charge as Euclid's Geometry, since, like that, it consists of propositions and demonstrations. The book is not only true, but it is unquestionably true."

LANDMARKS IN THE STORM. PIERCE'S ADMINISTRATION,

PIERCE'S ADMINISTRATION,
By Anna Ella Carroll of Maryland,
Author of the Great American Baltle, Siar of the West, &c.
Pamphiet, 12mo, 144 pages. Price 25 cents.
There are times when men go about seeking the right way when the Union is in peril.
Miss Carroll's work for correct information and real interest exceeds any yet issued from the press.
The bold and masterly siyle of the authoress, the fearless and truthul manner in which she handles her subject, commencing with Washington, and sketching all succeeding Administrations to Franklin Flerce, at once commands the admiration and respect of the render.
As a historical record of the past, and as a book of political reference, it will be invaluable to all parties, while the pleasant and agreeable manner in which it is written will give it a wide reputation.
